Tuesday, 8 November 2022 16:00 (20 minutes)

Though the urgency of the COVID-19 may be behind us, during the transition period back to what was the typical model of staffing and running a proceedings office, many teams have had to rely on inventive ways to achieve trained resourcing of the proceedings office. This talk will look at some of the ways this has been attempted over the past 2 years, some of the challenges which impact on operations, and sustainability of such methods to staff and operate a proceedings office.
