The JACoW Model: Sustaining the Collaboration for the Future

Tuesday, 8 November 2022 16:20 (20 minutes)

For over two decades now, the organisations, colleagues, and friends who make up the JACoW collaboration have dedicated themselves to preserving and distributing knowledge by and for the accelerator community. This presentation will look at some of the challenges and risks in sustainability, and will discuss existing collaboration models and other models we may need to consider into the future.
