Welcome message

It is our privilege to invite you to exhibit at and sponsor ICALEPCS 2025, the 20th edition of the International Conference on Accelerator and Large Experimental Physics Control Systems. ICALEPCS 2025 will be held September 20 to 26, 2025, at the Palmer House Hilton in Chicago, Illinois, and is hosted by Argonne National Laboratory.

ICALEPCS is the preeminent conference for control system engineers working at world leading scientific laboratories around the globe. The series was inaugurated in 1987 by a number of control system specialists from accelerator laboratories around the world. Over this time the Conference has evolved, keeping pace with changes in technology, the development of better control systems, the demands from facility operations, as well as a growing marketplace supporting the mission of these laboratories. The community for this Conference series has also grown, with ICALEPCS 2025 expecting 450 attendees representing over 200 research institutions worldwide. It is no longer just a conference for accelerator and experimental physics control systems. It is a forum enabling discussions and the interchange of ideas on technologies, engineering practices, management practices, project evolutions, safety system practices, cyber security, and cutting-edge enabling research, for many kinds of research instruments from many kinds of research institutions.

ICALEPCS 2025 is being hosted by Argonne National Laboratory (ANL), home to the Advanced Photon Source (APS), the world-class particle accelerator. The APS has recently completed a major upgrade project, making it the brightest hard X-ray synchrotron source in the world and enabling new groundbreaking science and discoveries. Argonne is a multipurpose research institution funded primarily by the U.S. Department of Energy's Office of Science.

Enclosed you will find general information about the conference, venue, sponsorship packages, and exhibitor opportunities. Your contribution and involvement as a sponsor and/or exhibitor are vital to the continued success of ICALEPCS. We look forward to your participation in creating a successful conference for everyone.

About ICALEPCS

ICALEPCS facilitates fruitful collaborations among the world's control system specialists from large scientific installations, such as particle accelerators, light sources, laser facilities, telescopes, tokamaks, etc. The series of ICALEPCS conferences started in 1987 in Villars-sur-Ollon (Switzerland), hosted by CERN. The conferences subsequently rotated between three major areas of the world: America (including North, Central and South America), Asia (including Oceania) and Europe (including Russia, the Near East and Africa). Over the years the conferences have seen a growing number of participants, institutions, and countries.

ICALEPCS is a biennial series of conferences that is intended to:

- Provide a forum for the interchange of ideas and information between control system specialists working on large experimental physics facilities around the world (accelerators, particle detectors, fusion reactors, telescopes, etc.);
- Create an archival literature of developments and progress in this rapidly changing discipline;
- Promote, where practical, standardization in both hardware and software;
- Promote collaboration between laboratories, institutes, and industry

The conference consists of a scientific program including keynote, invited, and contributed talks and poster sessions covering the following areas:

- Experiment Control
- Functional Safety Systems for Machine Protection, Personnel Safety
- Software Technology Evolution
- User Interfaces, User Perspective and User eXperience (UX)
- Project Status Reports
- Control Systems Upgrades
- Control System Infrastructure
- Data Management

- Device Control and Integrating Diverse Systems
- Feedback Control and Process Tuning
- Hardware Technology
- Timing and Synchronization
- Systems Engineering, Collaborations, Project Management
- Data Analytics

The conference is overseen by the International Scientific Advisory Committee comprised of about 40 members from scientific laboratories around the world.

Why should you get involved as a sponsor or exhibitor?

- Conference participants are keen to improve their scientific knowledge. Aligning your company with this powerful educational experience demonstrates your commitment to assisting their development at a deeply personal level.
- Your company will benefit significantly from exposure to an interested, relevant and influential audience in an informal yet informative environment away from the competition of everyday distractions.
